On Friday afternoon at 1:15 folk music will be played and sung by Kathy Cain of Marion followed by flute player Marcia Westergard and an ensemble. On Saturday at 1:00 P.M. the blues/rock band "Windfall Prophet" will perform in the Bicentennial park. This relatively new band is currently playing at the Spinnaker to a very enthusiastic bunch of young people. Members are Ricky Cain of Marion, Dan Stevens of Mattapoisett, Eddie Arruda and Dave Medeiros of Rochester.

For the more mellow taste an encore of the flute ensemble will also perform on Saturday afternoon.

The public is invited to enjoy all of this annual event. Awards of merit in all categories will be given. Proceeds from this Festival support the art sholarship fund awarded annually.

Selectmen's Meeting

Selectman John DeCosta handled routine business in the absence of Chairman William Hubbard and R. William Blasdale, both out of town on business.

Mr. Robert Urion appeared as President of the Lions Club to ask if the food van run by the Lions at the Town Beach could be plugged into the town electric service there. He said that the van, run by Cathy and Mary Crowe for the Club, has been most popular with beach goers and a successful venture for the Lions. The van could extend more variety of foods if the

ORIENTAL LACQUER EXHIBIT

An extensive collection of antique oriental lacquer ware will be on exhibit at the Mattapoisett Historical Society Museum on

New England seafaring men had a great fascination and appreciation of all Oriental art forms. A favorite was lacquer ware!

Long and tedious hours were spent creating this ware, an art in which the Orientals excelled and which has yet to be improved upon.

The inlay of mother-of-pearl designed to create birds, flowers, and landscape are visions of beauty. A peacock shimmers with his many glistening colors. It is no wonder these lovely chest-boxes-tables-etc. were brought home as special gifts to loved ones.

This beautiful and exciting collection will consist of many fine examples of lacquer ware: an 1850 writing box, chests of all shapes and sizes, scarf boxes, tea caddies, small shelves, dishes, trays and many,

Council on Aging

We hope that all you Seniors clipped our ad out of last week's edition of Presto Press and have it posted for trips to be made in August. There is one very important correction to be made. The time of the boat leaving at Hyannis (9:00 A.M.) was listed by mistake, instead of the time of departure from the Legion Hall. Please correct this on your schedule and show all Martha's Vineyard trips leaving at 7:30 A.M. from Depot Street.

Last Thursday 30 of us made the trip to the Gillette Castle and State Park at East Haddam, Connecticut. Those of you who passed up this trip missed one of our most enjoyable excursions. The Gillette Castle is well off the beaten path, on narrow country roads, but on a little hill overlooking the river where Gillette kept his boat. His home or "Castle" is all of ledge stone construction on the exterior, but of surprising warmth and interest within. The actor's furnishings, paintings, books, let-

Just ask Maureen or Henry. Or even Ty and Jimmy. The Oldens have been banking at National Bank of Fairhaven since November 1974. Marion Art Center

ANNUAL MEETING

The 20th annual meeting of the members of the Marion Art Center, Inc. was held last Monday evening. This event is held annually in July and the entire membership is welcome to attend for the purposes of electing the Board of Directors and hearing reports from the theater, gallery, studio and special events of the Center. A lively discussion followed Treasurer Phillippe Gaucher's report concerning the future of the Marion Art Center and anticipated deficit spending. Several members voiced opinions and ideas to solve the financial problems with optimistic support.

One of the founders of the Marion Art Center was Hilliard Lubin. Nearly two hundred residents had a chance to see Hilly in June when he flew in from London to participate in "THE CAST PARTY", a theater event featuring original casts from shows over the last twenty years. He wrote a letter concerning the past, present and future of the Marion Art Center which is partially published here:

"...No matter which of the 'arts' is concerned by whatever definition, the Art Center should provide the means (and the place, if possible) by which anyone can find a way to express his artistic pleasure even if the person has to be made to know there is such a thing to be expressed....

There should be an expanding involvement -- somehow -- by the doers, the viewers, the givers, the wishers, et al.

"There should be no limit, arbitrary or historical, to what ought to be or can be done. There should be a constant drive for experimentation even, as we know they will if some experiments fail. Edison didn't make his first light bulb on the first try. When the first whoever it was saw the first fire started by a bolt of lightening, the potential of the phenomenon was probably lost on that audience. There is no enterprise of any kind -- family, school, business or community -- which can survive for long on unchanging ways.

"There should be some way to get more of the audience -- for any of the arts involved -- off their viewing stance and into the doing chance. And, the doers as well as the viewers have to be givers too. Even though those who do the doing give of their time -- which they love to do anyhow -- they should do a little more, even with a little giving the viewers are expected a lot to give.

"Also there has to be the great desire to want to see the place not only survive but grow, no matter who has done what or for

JUNIOR ALL-STARS

In their 3rd game at the Lakeville Tournament the Junior Stars bounced back to another win. With strong offense and defense they beat Stoughton 14-9 during one of the hottest days of the summer. Kevin Sweet once again displayed his capable pitching through the whole game and at bat he had a triple and a double. By winning this game the Juniors now entered the quarter finals with high hopes of entering the semi-finals. Their opponent, Brockton, was very strong and soon their chance of winning began to dwindle. Before the game was over the Juniors displayed some fine ball playing but lost 9-2. Kevin Sweet has been nominated as a possible candidate for M.V.P. of the tournament and we're sure that everyone is waiting with high hopes that Kevin is chosen.

The Junior Stars are now out of the Lake-

Annual Auction

RIPPLE'S RIPPLES

As a pebble dropped into water emits ripple, Dave Ripple has started a chain reaction with his announcement of the annual October auction for the Mattapoisett Congregational Church.

And what he's telling folks hereabouts is to "think auction" as they look around their garages, porches, closets, storerooms, etc.

It's not too early, says Ripple, to earmark treasures for the ingathering by "Laurel and Hardy" (John Atkinson and Brad Hathaway), Ripple's partners in this endeavor.

Mrs. Furnans is standing by at the church office to take calls from volunteers from

The cast includes Bill Begley, Mike Powers, Mark Abelson, Mike Medeiros, Kathy Fontera, Kim Morse, Ralph Moniz, Lenny Travers, Manny Martines, Charles Barboza, Tim McCarthy, Barry Smith, Jane O'Neil, and Ed Nichols.

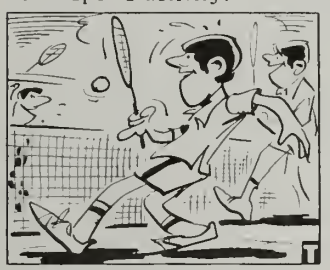
THEATER, The Gondoliers. One of Gilbert and Sullivan's most loved works tells the romantic story of a drummer boy turning royal heir. A host of handsome gondoliers, pretty young girls, and the shabby and shady Duke and Duchess of Plaza-Toro combine to provide comic situations. This BBC production was produced by Cedris Messina and directed by Bill Hays. Two hours.

Tennis Fever: Highly Contagious

Americans are making a racket over tennis: The number of tennis players increased by a smashing 45 percent between 1973 and 1977, a boom unmatched by any other sports activity.



ONE OUT OF every seven Americans plays tennis.

Tennis was considered to be a rich man's sport, but today, with courts springing up in communities all over the country and the availability of quality equipment at accessible prices, more and more people of every age are getting out on the court.

The United States Tennis Association (USTA), a not for profit membership organization, has been supporting the growth of tennis as a sport for everyone: amateurs, professionals, children, senior citizens. The USTA maintains an education and research center that offers a complete information service on instruction, films publications, recreational tennis activities and facility development. For a free list of the USTA's publications, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to USTA, E & R Center, 729 Alexander Rd., Princeton, N.J. 08540.
